

Transforming your paper into intelligent data

Entrospective is a business born out of IMMJ Systems in 2019 which will disrupt numerous vertical industries with our award winning Electronic Document Management (EDM) software. Our Company mission is to deliver paper to digital transformation and allow our customers to make intelligent decisions from their data.

What do we do?

Leveraging the success of the IMMJ Systems MediViewer platform serving the Healthcare market, Entrospective delivers the speed, resilience, security and intuitive user interface of that platform to other industry sectors. Our solution brings together unstructured data, from both paper and electronic sources, into a structured viewing platform which is designed for both mobile, tablet and PC use. Our cloud native technology enables quick deployment and real scalability. We place your customer – a citizen, a student, your employees or your clients – at the heart of the viewer enabling you to make fast, intelligent decisions from your data.

Why Entrospective?

Entrospective takes all the lessons learnt and development from our Healthcare business and packages this into a configurable solution for other industry sectors.

We firmly believe that our technology is the best in the market and will enable significant productivity and process efficiency. Our software platform provides the security you would expect from a provider who is managing Health data today. In addition, the Entrospective platform provides market leading performance and resilience that leads the market. Our embedded Optical Character Recognition (OCR) technology ensures that your data becomes intelligent from the minute it is ingested into our software.

Our SAAS subscription model enables affordable and quick access to our technology. We have built the technology to put your customer at the centre of our solution and we have built our business to put you at the centre of everything we do!

Next steps

-  We are working quickly to bring Entrospective to market in the coming months.
-  Our Managing Director Jonathan Elliott would be delighted to talk with you in the mean time.

